

MEDIATION STRATEGIES

JOAN B. KESSLER, JD, PHD

You are receiving this communication as a result of your interest in applying communication principles to resolve disputes through mediation.

To assist in the resolution of contentious disputes a Mediator:

- Allows litigants to communicate their feelings about the dispute in a controlled environment.
- Identifies key issues in dispute and gets all participants to focus on these key issues.
- Helps litigants become more realistic about possible outcomes related to the issues in dispute.
- Assists litigants in finding solutions where everyone gets something. This is not always possible but it is worth exploring and sometimes involves thinking outside the box.

Over 30 years ago I received a Ph.D. from the University of Michigan in Communications. For the 15 years before I went to law school in 1983 I taught interpersonal relations, group interaction, conflict resolution and intercultural communication courses. Many of the communication issues and solutions I taught, I have applied over the years in my mediation practice.
